A STORY OF HOW WE HELP

A mother of two high school students met with a PHP Advocate seeking financial assistance. Near panic and in tears, she explained that the family of 3 had been trying to live on $500 each month for some time. The client's sons were suffering from the stress of their living arrangements, which caused their behavior to change for the worse and their grades to decline. Although she had worked in the Valley for years and earned a good income, the IRS was garnishing her wages, which left her with the $500, as a result of a divorce.

PHP's Advocate helped this mom immediately by addressing the family's basic needs for food, rent support to prevent eviction, and utility assistance to keep the lights and heat on. Next, recognizing that the help provided thus far was a stop gap measure, as the garnishments would continue, the Advocate consulted with senior PHP employees. One of these employees suggested a local tax and accounting specialist that worked with PHP might be willing to voluntarily intercede.

The employee made a single call to the accountant who happily accepted the challenge. The client was given the accountant's contact information and immediately made an appointment. Within one week the garnishments ceased and the accountant "angel" was quickly able to negotiate a reasonable payment plan. This outcome allowed the family to return to stability.

Topic of the day: COMMUNITY HEALTH ACCESS RESOURCE TEAM (CHART)

The CHART Program:

- Collaborates with local Doctors, Dentists and the Tribal Health Clinic to ensure that uninsured children and adults have routine and emergency medical and dental care and avoid unnecessary emergency room visits.
- Provides Mental Health Wellness Counseling and parent education.
- Assists low-income families with medical expenses, advocacy and transportation.
